Independent Living Association: ILA Networking Event

Promoting high-quality Independent Livings in San Diego County

Oceanside, CA – June 26, 2014 – The Independent Living Association held an ILA Networking Event at the Jolly Roger in Oceanside. This event was well attended with 23 attendees comprised of ILA Members and community providers. The ILA also invited non-members who own Independent Livings to attend the ILA Networking Event to hear the benefits of joining the Association.

The ILA networking event is a great opportunity for ILA Members to network with other owners and community providers so that they can learn tips, tricks, and industry best practices to help improve their business.

At the ILA Networking Event, owners and community providers enjoyed appetizers while also participating in activities that were focused on getting to know other owners and community providers in their neighborhood.
