

Independent Living Association: ILA Networking Event

Promoting high-quality Independent Livings in San Diego County

El Cajon, CA – September 23, 2015 – Last week, the Independent Living Association (ILA) hosted a networking event for Independent Living Association Members, people considering becoming Independent Living owners, and community partners in San Diego at URBN St. Brewing Company in El Cajon.

Conversation filled the room as people connected with old and new friends, discussed life as an independent living owner, and shared advice. It was exciting to see the strong friendships and relationships that have formed between many of our owners since becoming members of the ILA! Every community partner in attendance had a chance to introduce the programs they represent and get to know the independent living owners providing service in the community.

The ILA also presented their quarterly member resource to those in attendance. Food availability has been identified by many independent living owners as a source of difficulty, and to help alleviate this stressor, the ILA compiled a list of food resources in San Diego County available to owners. The event ended with a competitive game of ILA bingo, which created great and exciting conversation among all in attendance!

We hope to see you at our next quarterly networking event on December 16, 2015!

The ILA is facilitated by Community Health Improvement Partners (www.sdchip.org) and funded by the County of San Diego Health and Human Services Agency's Behavioral Health Services Innovation Program funded by the Mental Health Services Act.
